history of missouri state teachers college

The Missouri State Teachers College began its existence in September, 1867, as a private institution and was called the Northeast Missouri Normal School. It was founded by Joseph Baldwin who had been engaged in normal school work in Indiana for about ten years. It was opened in a building known at the time as Cumberland Academy. This building had been erected by the Kirksville Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church for school purposes, just at the outbreak of the Civil War. It stood in the block now known as the Memorial Park in the northeast part of Kirksville.

President Baldwin had not come to Missouri merely to establish a private normal school. He came with the definite purpose of building up an institution of such excellence as to induce the State of Missouri to make it one of a number of state normal schools. He therefore began at once to advocate a system of six normal schools in Missouri. He was joined in his campaign by several prominent educators in the state, and as a result the Legislature of Missouri enacted a law in March, 1870, providing for two state normal schools, one on either side of the Missouri River. The location of these two institutions was left to a Board of Regents.

Shortly after the Legislature passed this bill providing for two state normal schools, various counties prepared bids for the location of these institutions and submitted them to the Board of Regents. Adair and Livingston counties were active competitors for the school north of the Missouri River. On December 29, 1870, the Board of Regents accepted the bid of Adair County and located the First District Normal School at Kirksville. The faculty of the Northeast Missouri Normal School was then made the faculty of the newly created State Normal School with Joseph Baldwin as president. When the students returned to Kirksville in January, 1871, after the Christmas holidays, they returned to a state institution.

The school known in its catalogs both as the "North Missouri State Normal School" and the "Missouri State Normal School of the First District" continued to use the building, in which it had been founded as a private institution, until January, 1873, when it occupied a new building on the present campus. This old building, later known as Baldwin Hall was for nearly thirty years the only building on the campus. In 1901 Library Hall was built as a wing on the east of the main building, and in 1905 Science Hall was erected as another wing on the west. Science Hall was gutted by fire on September 18, 1918, but was rebuilt in the winter of 1918-19. At that time automatic fire doors were installed in the passageways between Baldwin Hall and Science Hall and these saved Science Hall at a later time.

The school used its official name of First District Normal School from 1905 to 1919, but it was popularly known as K.S.N.S.--the Kirksville State Normal School. Even today, old-timers speak of it under that title, or affectionately they abbreviate it to "the Normal." In 1919 it was named by the legislature the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, which is officially its name today. In the late forties, the legislature granted to the five teachers colleges the option of dropping teachers from their names. The other teachers colleges of Missouri exercised this option, leaving this school as the only State Teachers College in Missouri, the title by which it is familiarly known.

In 1924 old Baldwin Hall burned completely. Library Hall went with it, since it was not as well protected as Science Hall. Insurance money and a gift from Samuel M. Pickler soon created a new library building, but the college remained without a replacement for Baldwin Hall until 1938.

President Baldwin remained with the institution until 1881 when he resigned to accept the presidency of the Sam Houston Normal Institute at Huntsville, Texas. Since that time the presidency here has been filled by W. P. Nason, pro tem, 1881-82; J. P. Blanton, 1882-91; W. D. Dobson, 1892-99; John R. Kirk, 1899-1925; Eugene Fair, 1925-37; and Walter H. Ryle, since 1937. The portraits of all the past presidents are in the first floor corridor of Baldwin Hall.

The annual enrollment of students has steadily grown from the beginning. At the end of the first year there were 140 students in what was called the normal department. In the fall of 1956 there were 1763 persons attending classes on the campus, and in the fall of 1957 the number was 2003.

The faculty has likewise grown in numbers. In the first year there were only six members in the faculty. In 1927 there were 64, and in 1957-58 there are 113 on the faculty roll, 11 of whom are on an emeritus list.

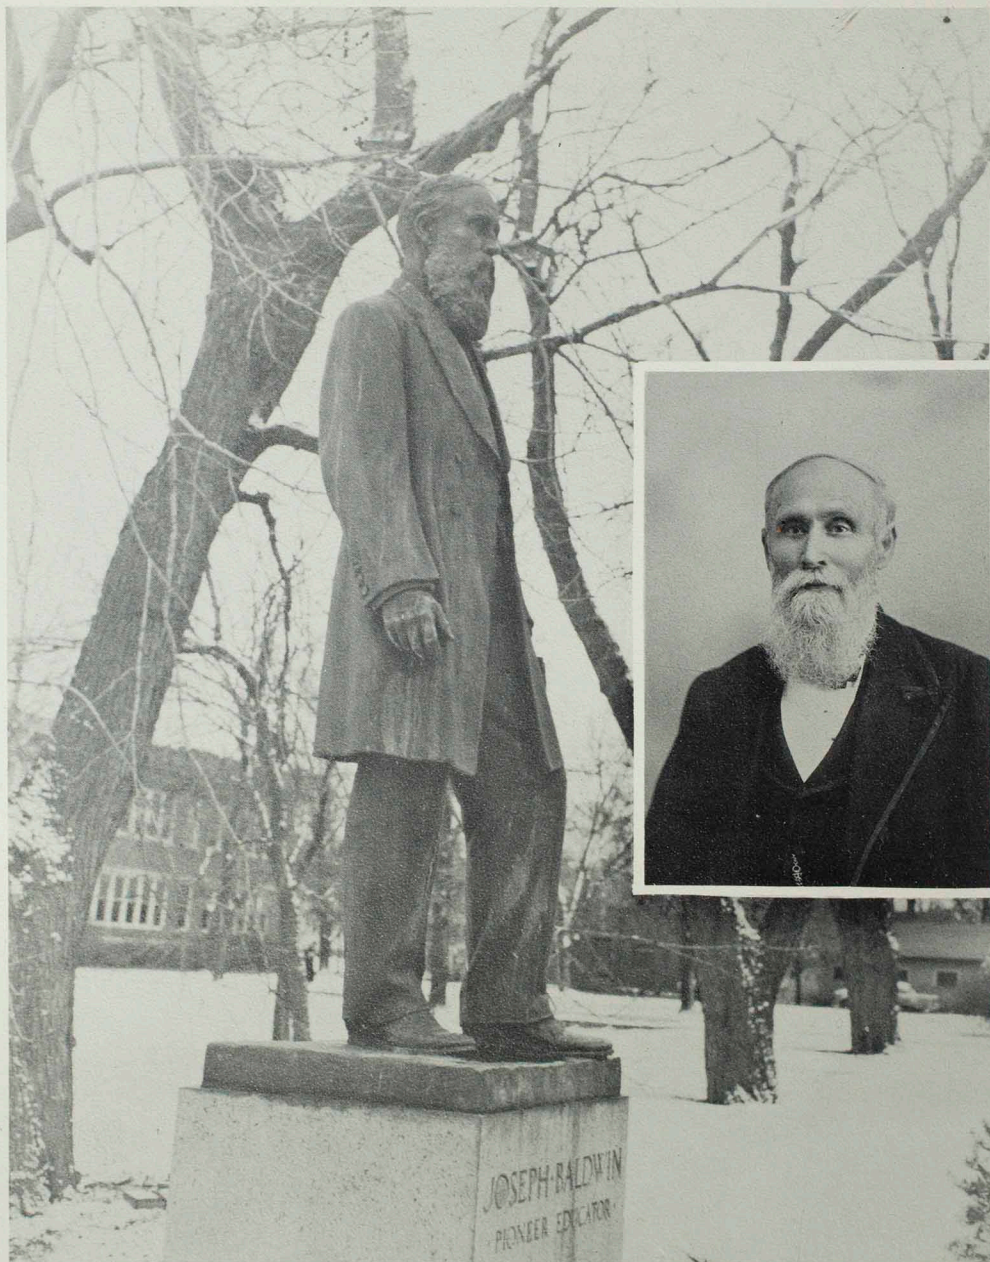

The college of 1867, as well as that of 1900, had no entrance requirements. High schools were not numerous, but when a high school graduate came to the First District Normal School, he was graduated in one or two years. If he came from the eighth grade to the Normal School, he finished in four years. Gradually between 1900 and 1915 the high school courses were added and made a prerequisite to the normal school courses. The college began issuing the Bachelor of Science in Education degree in 1912, basing four years of college on four years of high school. But until the early '20's, high school work was offered in the college. In 1947 the college announced the fifth year of work culminating in the master's degree, and in 1958 it is announcing that a five-year college program is to become the principal program.

In the history of the college, the twenty-year period from 1937 to the present has been one of plant construction. The original thirteen acres have been expanded into a forty-five acre site and the number of buildings has been greatly increased. In 1937 there existed the Pickler Library Building, Old Science Hall, Kirk Auditorium, the Ophelia Parrish School, the power plant which at one time housed the Industrial Arts department, a farm house and a barn, and the Model Rural School--a total of eight buildings. Since 1937 the Rural School has been razed, but the following buildings have been added to the seven which remained: Baldwin Hall, Ophelia Parrish Addition, Industrial Arts Building, Industrial Arts Addition, Housing Units B, C, D, E, F, G, H and K, Missou Hall, Bulldog Kennel, Practical Arts Building, Home Economics, Temporary Storage Unit, a Warehouse, Stokes Stadium, Press Box, Grim Hall, Home Management House, Blanton Hall, Nason Hall, the Greenhouse, the Garage, the College Apartments, Science Hall, Kirk Memorial, and Dormitory M. Under construction in 1958--which has been named the Year of Building--are the Auditorium in Baldwin Hall, the Pershing Building, Brewer Hall, an extension of the Power Plant, and the Fair Apartments. There will then be forty-one separate roofs.

During these years, grounds have been beautified with ornamental entrances, a quadrangle of sidewalks, a flagpole, many beds of flowers, and a number of lawns which were previously bare spots. A hundred or more hardy trees, many of them flower-bearing, have come to maturity. Planned for the near future are parking lots and long sidewalks for the newer parts of the campus.

"As we move toward the century mark, we should rededicate ourselves to those great ideals to which our college has been dedicated since the days of Baldwin. Its future lies in the hands of its faculty, students, alumni, and friends . . . let everyone . . . give of their best toward developing our campus into a great center of learning to the end that it may truly become the Athens of Northeast Missouri."

Foreword

This, the Echo for 1957-1958, has been compiled by the students for the students of MSTC to tell the story of the current year; to commemorate the 90th Anniversary of our college and its founder, Joseph Baldwin; and to pay special tribute to Dr. Walter H. Ryle's administration as president for twenty years of the institution that personifies the growth and development of education in Northeast Missouri.

Publishing an annual to equal these occasions is a task that has not been performed without much diligent labor and deep meditation.

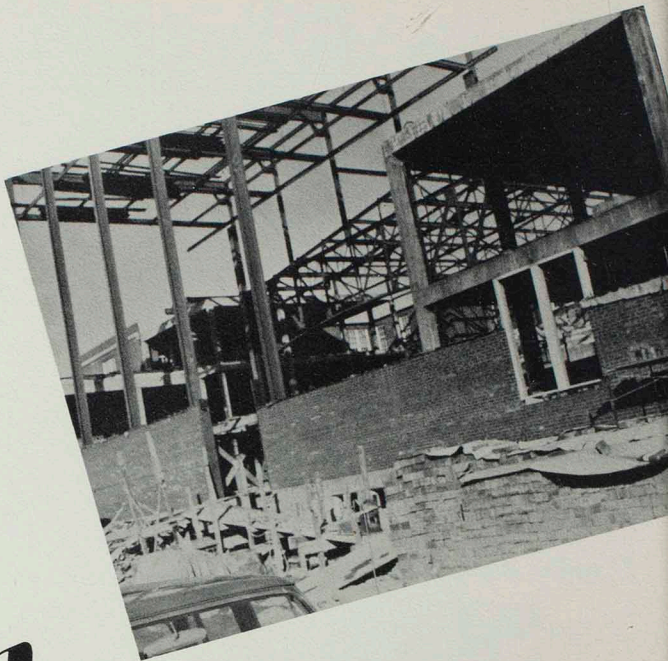

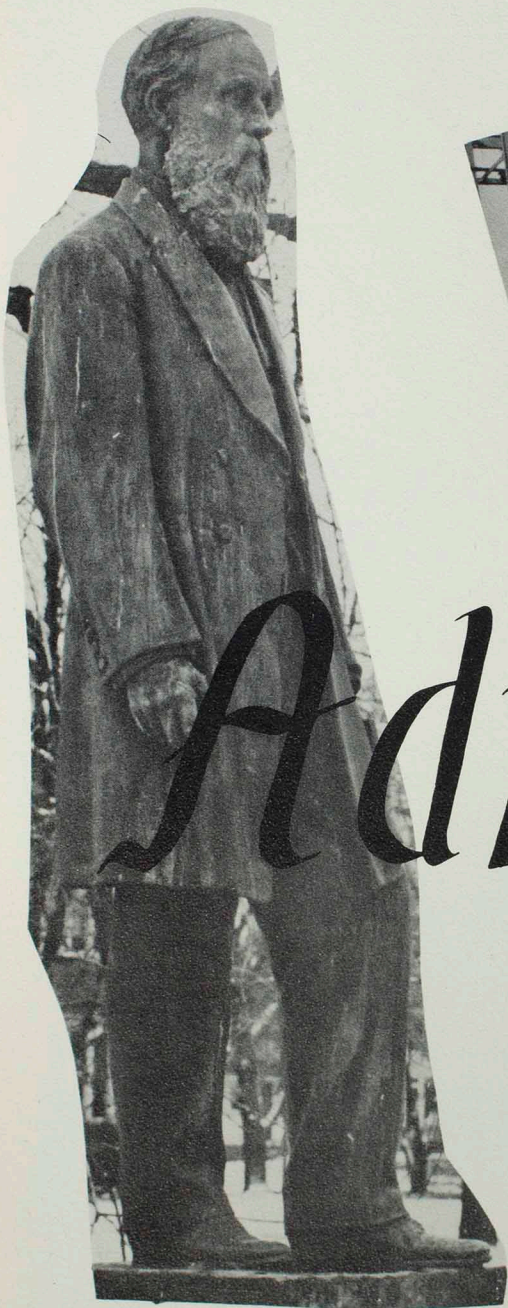

If you should discover that it is imperfect, remember that perfection is an ideal, not a reality.

If perchance you should find a page, a paragraph, or a phrase that does not meet your approval, forget it and look for one that does.

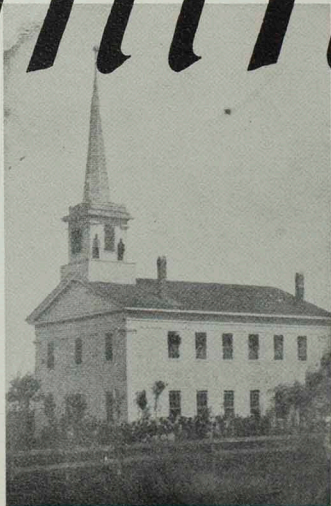

It is our hope that, as you turn these pages, you will live again in memory some of our various mutual experiences.

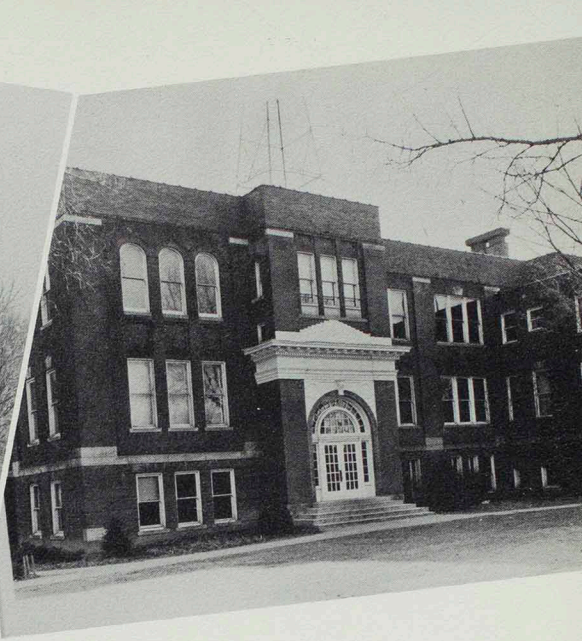

With this last thought in mind, we submit this volume to you.

Elmo Oestreich, Student Body President

student council

The Student Council is the student governing body on campus. As a governing body its main objective is to promote and co-ordinate student activities and to encourage cooperation between the students, faculty, and administration.

A Christmas formal and several informal Kampus Krawls have been sponsored by the Council. It also helps plan and organize Homecoming, Parent's Day, and Senior Day for high schools of the surrounding area.

Springtime is campaign time for the political parties on campus, with the colorful display of slogans, candidates' portraits, and campaign buttons, and with rallies to excite the voters' interest. Last spring when the votes were tallied the students' choice was the I.B. party for six of the seven council offices.

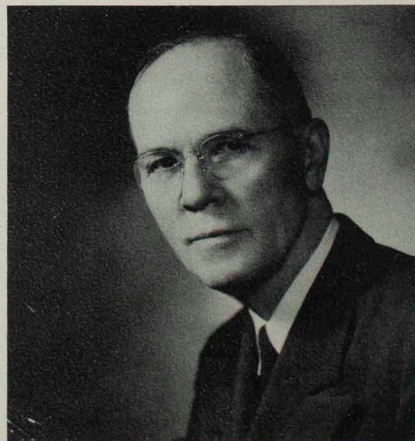

During the summer, the Council sponsors its annual street dance and other social activities for the benefit of summer quarter students. In this way the Student Council serves the student body all year long.

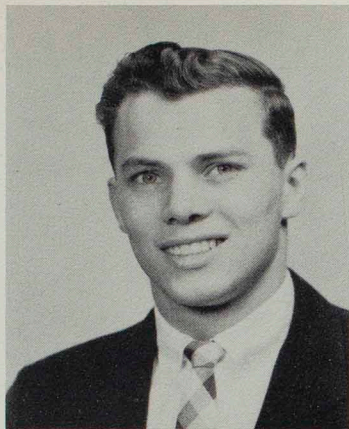

The seven Student Council officers are elected by vote of the entire student body and serve for one year. At the beginning of fall quarter each class elects a councilwoman and councilman to represent them in the student government for one year. Summer replacements are made by recommendations from the Council members and class officers.

Below are the elected officers for 1957-1958 and the Council's sponsor, Dr. Allen.

Dr. Allen, Sponsor, Elaine Goto, Judy Paradise, John Bragg, Elmo Oestreich, Pat Black, and Carolyn Gregory.

Dr. C. H. Allen, Sponsor

On the strength of actual ability, past record, and personal habits, twenty-eight members of the MSTC student body were chosen to appear on the pages of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

These students, selected by an unknown committee on a non-prejudiced basis, were chosen in view of their service to the school, leadership and practical qualities, contribution to extra curricular activities, and scholastic achievements.

Teachers College Index

The Index will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary next year. Since 1909 the Index has been keeping the college students informed of events on campus. The paper serves the students by publishing special football and basketball issues, giving publicity to organizational projects, and giving weekly coverage to campus news.

The staff is composed of the journalism classes, and a minor in journalism is offered by the college. Each quarter the newswriting class elects an editor and assistant editor who serve for that quarter.

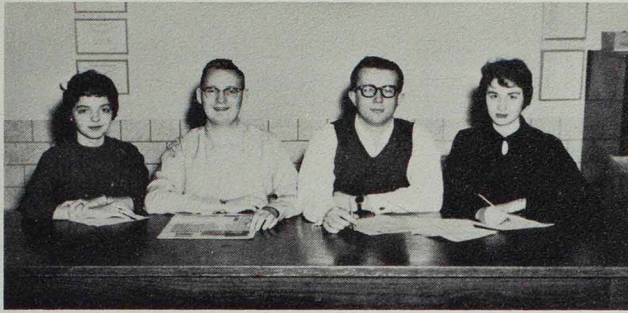

Fall quarter editor was Sterling Holbrook and assistant editor was Nancy Casner. The winter quarter editor was Dave Forsythe and co-assistant editors were Charlene Cox and Nancy Casner. Miss Agnes Slemmons is the advisor.

Miss Agnes Slemmons directs the publishing of the Index.

Editors and assistant editors for the fall quarter were Sterling Holbrook, editor; Nancy Casner, assistant editor. Those for the winter quarter were Dave Forsythe, editor; Nancy Casner and Charlene Cox, assistant editors. For the spring quarter the co-editors were Charlene Cox and Nancy Casner.

The busy Index photographer, Dale Woodward, holds the brand new Index camera, the pride of the newsroom.

Sterling Holbrook, Miss Slemons, Charlene Cox, and Mr. H. Greene Simpson are off to New York for the National Collegiate Press Association Convention, as they point out their route to Nancy Casner.

The staffs that have put the annuals out down through the years have received very little credit for their hard work. To the "unsung heroes" of my staff I would like to give a very special thanks, which is little enough payment for the help they have given me in this publication.

Of the staff a few deserve special recognition for their unpaid and untiring work: Nancy Casner, who typed, wrote copy, designed layouts, made appointments, ran errands, and without whose encouragement I would have "thrown in the towel" on a number of occasions; Marge Gordy, who could have typed all night, and sometimes did; Wayne Hughes, for his better-late-than-never, but worth-waiting-for art work; John Mullin, our sports editor; our sponsors, Miss Babbitt and Mrs. Hill, who spent long late hours editing copy and proof reading, and who managed to convince me good English and Journalism were best after all; Mr. Harrison, who ran interference; and those who received a little pay: Business Manager Don Swayze, who did not draw the line between the work of the editor and the business manager; Jerry West, an able assistant-editor; and Janice Legg, assistant business manager, who did their jobs well. All have given much time and effort in putting together the 1958 Echo, for you, the student body of MSTC.

The Council sponsors a foreign student each year. The money for this project is made through the sale of student theater tickets.

The Council also sponsors a banquet each spring at which it awards a scholarship cup to the sorority with the highest scholastic average.

phi sigma epsilon

Phi Sigma Epsilon is a national social fraternity for college men. Gamma chapter began on this campus as Sigma Delta Tau, a local fraternity.

The Phi Sigs ended the 1957 school year activities with Frank DeAgostine being elected Echo King at the annual Echo Dance. The first achievement of the fraternity for the current year was the winning of first prize in the Spirit division of the Homecoming parade, an honor gained for the second consecutive year. The float theme was "90 Years and Still on Top". During Homecoming, 602 South Elson held its annual Open House.

Winter quarter found the boys busily preparing for the rush season, which began with the annual rush smoker and ended with the Apache Dance. The season netted twenty-two new pledges, and the job of molding them into fraternity men began immediately.

Three members made Who's Who: Charles Fitzgerald, Phil Novinger, and Richard Parcells. Dick was also senior candidate for Echo king.

Dick Miller was elected Sophomore class president. Charles Fitzgerald was president of the K-Club, and John Mullin was sports editor of the Echo.

Helping engineer the fraternity again this year were sponsors Duane Cole and Dr. Karel, to whom we give sincere thanks for their fine efforts.

Alpha Kappa Lambda is a national university and senior college fraternity. It was founded at the University of California in 1914. A.K.L. now has chapters in colleges and universities from coast to coast.

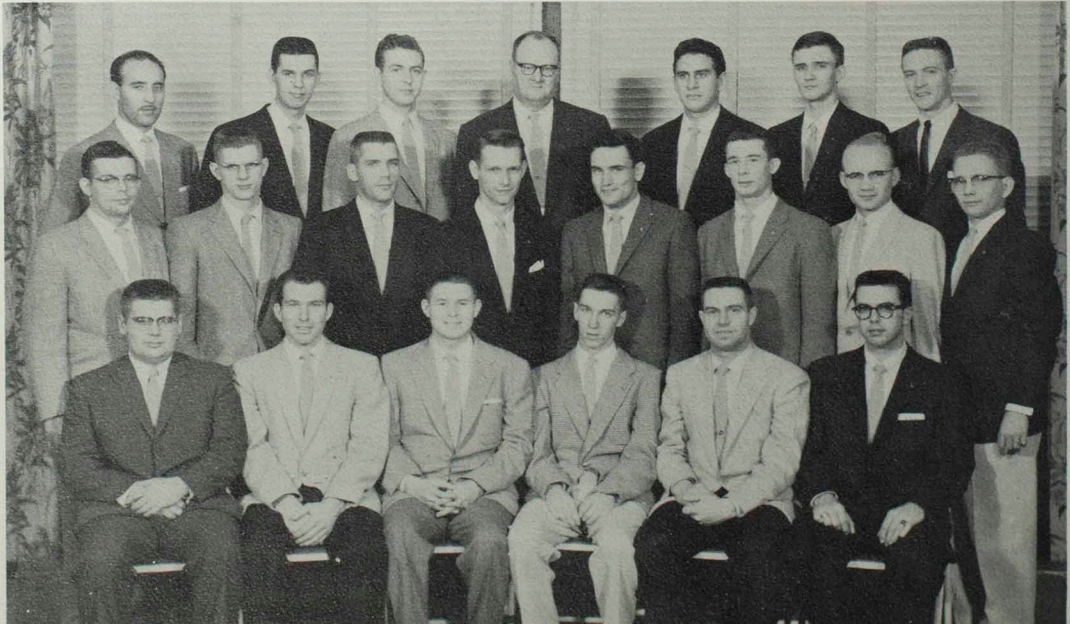

The A.K.L. Club was established on the Teachers College campus in 1952 and became XI chapter of Alpha Kappa Lambda in 1953. One of the fraternity's many achievements since becoming national in 1953 is the winning of the President's Inter-Fraternity Scholarship Cup five consecutive years, every year that the fraternity has been eligible for competition.

This fall the A.K.L.'s moved into a new house at 315 S. High. The fraternity has begun a hot meal program, which is the only fraternity meal program on campus at this time.

After annual rush smokers and the University rush dance, twenty-three new men pledged Alpha Kappa Lambda.

Ralph Gotto and Tom Perry brought honors to the fraternity by making Who's Who this year. Dr. Dean Rosebery is A.K.L.'s sponsor.

Sigma Sigma Sigma is a national social sorority founded in 1898 at Farmville, Va. Mu Chapter was initiated on this campus in 1915.

The aims are to establish a perpetual bond of friendship, to develop a strong womanly character, to encourage scholastic attainment, and to develop social consciousness. Requirements for membership are based on background, leadership, scholarship, and character.

Homecoming started off this year's activities. Cita Green was Tri Sigma's candidate for Homecoming Queen, and the float, "90 Years and Still Sailing", won second place. Three of the Bulldog cheerleaders were Tri Sigmas.

Twenty-eight girls pledged Tri Sigma this year after two formal rush functions, a Meet Mr. Mort luncheon and a Cocoanut Grove party.

Beth Ann Novinger was selected to represent the Teachers College at the Midwest Speech Tourney, and Jo Sandfort was selected for Who's Who. The Trump Night skit won first place and Joan Correll was crowned Queen of Hearts. Spring brought Tri Sigma's Founder's Day Banquet and Formal Dance.

sigma tau gamma

This year Beta chapter celebrates its 65th anniversary on campus. It was originally founded as Phi Lambda Epsilon. Since its beginning, Beta has striven toward the goals of true brotherhood and friendship.

Spring of '57 found the brothers successfully campaigning to put the I.B.'s back at the helm of the student government. Under the political engineering of Basil Hunt, the I.B.'s swept six out of seven offices with Elmo Oestreich the new Student Council President and John Bragg the new councilman.

The annual White Rose Dance was held the last day of school with Heidi Herboth reigning over the formal festivities as White Rose Queen.

The Sig Taus got off to a busy start in the fall quarter. Annual open house was held at Tau Towers on Parents Day and at Homecoming.

The brothers canvassed the campus for the Red Feather Drive, helped the Mother's March on Polio, and supported the Red Cross Bloodmobile when it was in Kirksville.

Rushing began with winter quarter. The annual '49er Dance highlighted the season. Fifty-two new men pledged Sigma Tau Gamma, making the rush season one of the most successful in Beta's history.

February found the Taus holding a Pancake Day for the Angus Memorial Scholarship Fund from which the Betas give a scholarship each year to a social science graduate student.

Five members--Mason Benn, Don Swayze, Elmo Oestreich, Richard Flaspohler, and Basil Hunt--were chosen for Who's Who. Jack Delahunt, Ed Smiser, and Fred Clarke were candidates for Echo king.

Basil Hunt and Don Swayze were editor and business manager of the Echo, and three members--Sherrill East, Don Swayze, and Dick Flaspohler were elected presidents of their respective classes.

The Sig Taus, in appreciation of the many years of loyal service their sponsor, Mr. John Goetze, had given them, presented the college a stone bench to be placed by the flag pole in his honor.

The object of Delta Zeta is to unite its members in the bonds of sincere and lasting friendship, to stimulate one another in the pursuit of knowledge, and to promote the moral and social culture of its members.

The Delta Zeta's float took 1st place in the Beauty Division of the Homecoming parade. The theme of the float was "Delta Zeta's Toast To K.S.T.C.". The float was made up of a large bottle pouring champagne into an equally large goblet, the float was purple and white, the girls on the float were Carol Fox and Diana LeFevre. Our own Judy Paradise was chosen as Homecoming Queen.

Judy Paradise, Barbara Heid and Joyce Hall were elected for Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Serving on the Student Council were Pat Smith, Billie Horn and Judy Paradise. Our Echo Queen Candidates were Doris Williams, freshman; Jan Finke, sophomore.

With a veteran squad of 19 lettermen, MSTC Bulldogs began fall practice showing promise of an improved squad. Freshmen and transfer students on the team brought new strength to the Bulldogs.

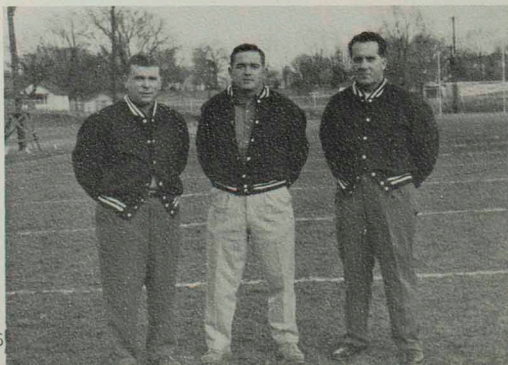

Following the bleak 1956 season, Coach Wade and Gardner along with assistant coach, Mel Loncaric, worked double sessions to prepare for the kick-off against the strong Pittsburg squad.

The second game of the season saw St. Benedict's Ravens of Atchison, Kansas invade Bulldog territory and half time found the Ravens topping the Bulldogs by a 19-0 score. In the second half the Bulldogs matched the opposition point for point but lacked power to overtake the superior Raven team and finally lost 32-13.

In the first home game, before a record Parents Day crowd, the Bulldogs showed their versatility by a solid 40-7 thumping of Graceland College. The Bulldogs' offensive power was clearly shown in the scoring column as Billy Mills collected two touchdowns, while brother Dale, Jim Rhodes and Rufus Davis each collected six points.

The Bulldogs opened their 1957-58 cage season away from home against Quincy College. Quincy copped the game by two buckets, 62-58. However, the Bulldogs bounced back two days later and trounced Graceland 86-57 before a large crowd in Kirk Auditorium.

On December 7 the highly rated Omaha University team invaded Kirk Aud. and dumped the Bulldogs in a high scoring game 80-71. The Dogs got back on their feet and buried the Rockhurst team under the hardwood 72-47, which evened the season's mark at two and two.

Encountering the strong Kansas City Kaycees, the Bulldogs toppled the semi-pros in a spirited game, 75-70.

The Teachers College quintet traveled to the Quincy Holiday Tournament where they were slated the underdogs. Deflating St. Johns 75-52, St. Benedicts 51-49, and Quincy 56-51, in that order, the King's men took the tourney championship.

Continuing their winning ways, the Bulldogs met Rockhurst at Kirk Aud. and emerged victorious 66-51. In their first MIAA conference contest at Rolla, the Bulldogs rolled over the Miners 62-54.

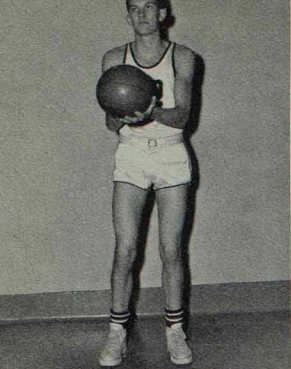

Stepping out of conference action, the Dogs took on Quincy College for the third time. The Hawks fought to the final seconds of play, but the tenacious Bulldogs squeezed by to win by one point, 65-64.

Two Bulldogs who were honored as all-tournament players in the Quincy Tourney are J. Burditt and Roy Tewell. Tewell was also most valuable player of the tournament and in March was chosen for the MIAA All-Conference team.

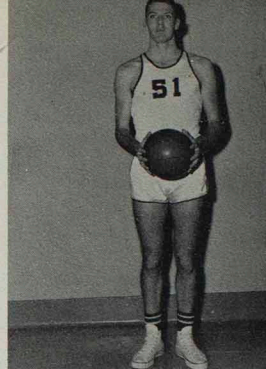

G. Williams

The Bulldogs were host to Warrensburg in their second conference tilt. The local five had little trouble subduing the Mules and gave them a sound drubbing, 71-51.

Cape was next to invade Kirk Aud. and after a hard fought game, the Indians topped the Dogs, 51-48.

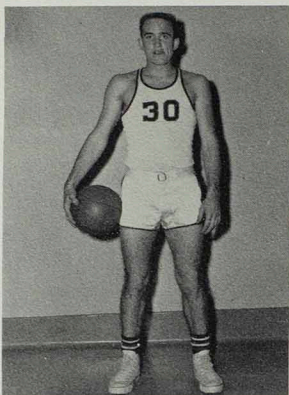

The second and last conference defeat of the season came at the hands of the Springfield Bears. The Bears tore the Bulldogs apart 75-56.

R. Deem, co-captain

With a strong comeback as Tewell and Burditt swished the nets consistently, the Bulldogs romped over the Rolla Miners in Kirk Aud. by 30 points, 91-61.

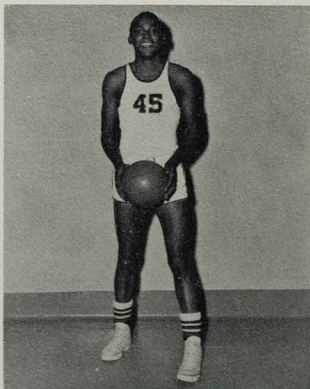

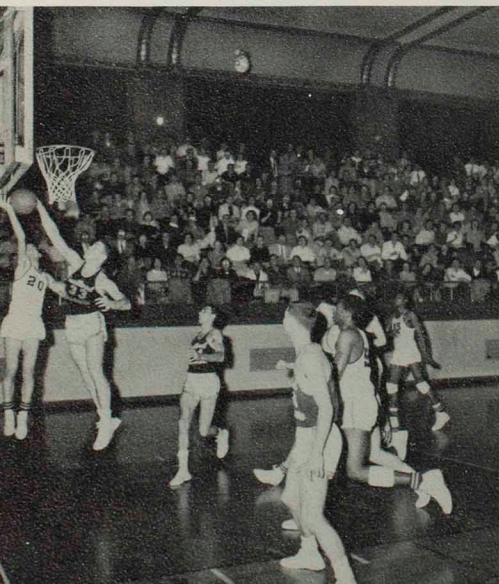

Claiming their 12th victory, Kirksville set back Maryville by an 85-74 count.

G. Doss, co-captain

Mike Samuel sank a twenty-footer in the last minutes of play to win a thrilling overtime game against the Warrensburg Mules, 66-65. This victory assured the Bulldogs of second place in the conference. The Bulldogs met their most formidable opponents, the Springfield Bears, in the last game to be played in Kirk Aud. The Dogs showed themselves unimpressed by the perfect record of 19 wins that Springfield had racked up. Meeting the Conference champions with fangs bared, the Bulldogs dominated play the entire game.

With a score of 87-74, Kirksville handed the Bears their only defeat of the season, thus destroying the perfect record of the team ranked fifth most powerful in the nation among small colleges.
